STEAMER GOES DOWN

The Kaiser Wilhelm Sinks at Her Wharf.

HEAVY LOSS TO THE OWNERS

What Dr. Lyman Thinks of the Briggs Case.

The Canadian Cattle Question in the House of Commons—Murderous Work of American Tramps—Great Reciprocity Convention in St. Paul—The Borden Murder Trial.

Genoa, June 5.—The accident to the North German Lloyd's steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. turns out very serious, and will entail heavy loss upon the owners or underwriters. As announced in yesterday's despatches, the valve seat of the circulating pumps broke while repairs were being made to the pump, allowing the sea water to rush into the engine room, which was soon flooded. The donkey pumps were unable to free the ship; on the contrary the water gained, and in a comparatively short time the Kaiser Wilhelm sank. She went down alongside her wharf. Part of her cargo will be saved, though in a much damaged condition. As soon as it was seen that the steamer was going to sink preparations were made at once to raise her. A diver stopped up the pipe containing the defective valve seat, while others battened down the hatches and closed as tightly as possible all openings leading to the saloon and hold. Powerful pumps were then placed at work, and at the hour this despatch was sent, 3 p. m., the steamer is once more afloat. It will be some days, however, before she will be able to sail.

Lyman Abbott on the Briggs Case.

New York, June 5.—Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, in his sermon on the Briggs case yesterday at Plymouth church, Brooklyn, endeavored to prove that Dr. Briggs and not the General Assembly, during the last two years, had defended the true Christian faith, and it was not Dr. Briggs who was heretical, but the stand taken by the General Assembly was one, the logical results of which was infidelity. Dr. Abbott spoke of the battle which had gone on from the days of Moses down to the present time between ecclesiastics and the prophets, the one maintaining that the institution is the essential thing, and the other that individual personal life was the essential thing. "What is heresy?" exclaimed the doctor. "For one thing it is to believe and declare that God is not the father of all mankind, and leaves no door of access to himself, the one door of a written word that was not completed till the human race had longed, cried and prayed for their father for 2000 years."

Only One Case.

London, June 5.—In the cattle embargo debate in the House of Commons on Saturday night, President Gardner, of the board of agriculture, replying to Mr. Chaplin, made an important statement regarding the embargo on Canadian cattle. He said that so far the special examination of the animals' lungs had proved satisfactorily, for out of ten cargoes, comprising 5119 cattle, only one animal, which arrived on the steamship Lake Winnipeg, gave cause for suspicion. Regarding this he awaited further information from the board of agricultural advisors. Mr. Chaplin, who appeared surprised at the clean bill of health reported, asked whether he was to understand that only one case was suspected. Mr. Gardner replied "only one."

Short Pack on the Columbia.

Astoria, June 3.—The salmon pack on the river for the season to May 31, according to the most reliable sources of information, is almost 80,000 cases, or about 24,000 cases short of last year's pack for the same time, that being 104,000. Last week many of the canneries fell behind their figures for the corresponding time in 1892, a fact which is to be accounted for by the scarcity of trap fish. As it is not likely that the traps will get anything like the same amount of fish they secured last year, it is safe to say that the pack for the entire season will be many thousand cases short. Four fishing boats captised to-day; one man drowned. The boats were all saved, but much gear was lost.

Amick's Consumption Cure.

New York, June 3.—The Recorder will detail to-morrow the cure of several consumptive patients at Ward's Island under the direction of the city authorities. As only charity patients in the last stage of consumption are admitted there, the Recorder claims that the cure for which it awarded Dr. W. R. Amick, of Cincinnati, $1000, has accomplished something almost miraculous. It says also that the Cincinnati doctor has agreed to keep the hospital supplied with medicine sufficient for all its consumptive cases at his own expense. As only third stage cases are taken there no more severe test could be invited.

While it is now generally admitted that the Amick discovery is a certain specific in the earlier stages of consumption, Amick has never heretofore claimed that it would cure more than 20 per cent of the third stage consumptives. In this test just made by the city, three out of four were either cured or astonishingly benefited. It is easy enough for any sufferers from the disease to test the new discovery through their family physician, for Amick sends medicines for the purpose free of cost and invites an impartial test of it by the medical profession everywhere.

Borden Murder Trial.

New Bedford, Mass., June 5.—The trial of Lizzie Andrew Borden, who is indicted for the murder of her aged parents under circumstances that have created a national sensation, is on the docket for call to-day. An extra venire has been issued by the clerk of the court and the trial will proceed without interruption. Large numbers of strangers have been attracted by the event, and the Parker house and Mansion house are filled to overflowing. Over 60 representatives of the press are here. The jury will be quartered in the Parker house, a portion of which has been partitioned off for their accommodation. The court house in which the trial is to take place is an old-fashioned, poorly ventilated building of the type of 50 years ago. Judge Blodgett, the ablest member of the supreme bench, presides over the court. Attorney-General Pillsbury leads the array of counsel for the commonwealth, and ex-Governor Robinson the defense. The trial will occupy four weeks. Thousands of dollars have already been wagered on the result. The sporting element favors an acquittal. Betting as to whether the accused will go on the stand is even. The prisoner is in good health and spirits.

CAPITAL COMMENTS.

Gubernatorial Plans—Carling Only a K. C.M.G.—The Connollys Again.

Ottawa, June 5.—The Earl and Countess of Derby left this morning for Kingston. From there they will go to Toronto and will attend the reception by Mrs. Kirkpatrick on Wednesday. On Thursday they will go to Hamilton.

Senator Tasse, who is here, says the government have arranged to hold a demonstration on Dominion Day. He will leave next week for the World's Fair and Cockburn will leave this week.

The statement published in government newspapers that Carling has been advanced to the cross of the order of St. Michael and St. George is said at the governor-general's office to be incorrect. He is only a K. C. M. G. The only knights of the grand cross in Canada are Tupper and Galt.

Several of the departments have run short of funds to pay their extra clerks for the last month. A governor's warrant will have to be passed.

Application was made in the exchequer court to-day by the crown to fix the date for the trial of the civil suit for over half a million dollars against Larkin, Connolly & Co., in connection with the Quebec harbor works. Mr. Lash, of Blake, Kerr & Lash, representing the Connollys, made application for postponement of the trial. This was granted and the case adjourned sine die. It is not likely to be proceeded with.

Disappointment is felt in Government circles over immigration returns for the first four months of the year. It was expected that the restriction placed on immigration in the United States would result in largely swelling the influx of settlers to Canada, but this hope has not been realized.

The Mississquoi Massacre.

Montreal, June 5.—A later account of the triple murder in Mississquoi county, Que., is that at an early hour on Saturday morning three American thieves crossed over from Vermont to the hamlet of Beach Ridge and entered the farm house of Mr. Eddy, a farmer, and a leading man in the locality. They first demanded and obtained all the money and valuables he possessed and then shot and killed him, cut the throats of his wife and daughter, and then set fire to the house. The flames were seen by the neighbors, who at once rushed to the spot, and were horrified at the sight of the three dead bodies in a room on the lower flat of the house. The assassins had fled after completing their horrible work, and the traces they left showed that they went directly south to the border line, three miles distant. Detectives have left Montreal for the scene of the murders, accompanied by Mr. H. O. Eddy, a son of the murdered man, a manufacturers' agent here. Miss Emma Eddy, the murdered daughter, was 20, and was soon to have been married to a Montreal journalist.

The Revolution in Brazil.

Valparaiso, June 5.—News just received from Rio Grande do Sul makes a favorable showing for the Brazilian revolutionists. General Saravia still holds Villa Estrella. He has captured 1500 horses from the Government troops. His army has been increased by 100 men led by a colonel who deserted from the government forces to join the revolutionists. Several sub-lieutenants, who deserted from the Brazilian war school, have been arrested in Montevideo at the request of the Brazilian minister, who has asked that they be sent back to Brazil for trial.

The Death of Abel.

London, June 5.—According to the Arabian legends to-day is the anniversary of the death of Abel, and advices from Jedda say that in accordance with ancient practice the doors of the tomb of Eve will be thrown open. Usually 500 visitors from abroad visit Jedda for this occasion, but this year the number is nearly 5,000. The temple over the alleged tomb has a palm tree growing out of a crack in the roof. The grave is some 250 feet in length, having probably been made to fit the alleged Ishmaelitish belief that the first woman was 200 feet in height.

Amusia.

The term amusia, recently introduced into medical nomenclature, may be said to denote with regard to the musical faculty about what the word aphasia, in its most comprehensive use, imports with regard to the faculty of speech. Some interesting examples of loss or impairment of the ability to produce or to comprehend music are on record, and a condensed account of the more important observations bearing on the subject is given in a "Revue Generale," by Dr. Paul Blocq, published in the Gazette hebdomadaire de Medecine et de Chirurgie for February 25th. * * * Blocq credits Knoblauch with having established the autonomy of such a pathologic state as amusia in 1888. In 1891 Wallaschek made an important classification of the varieties of amusia, distinguishing motor amusia, in which the patient comprehends music, but has lost the power of singing; sensory amusia, in which the subject can no longer distinguish sounds; paramusia, in which the subject sings, but with mistakes in time and note; musical agraphia, or loss of the power to writes notes; musical alexia, loss of the ability to read music; and musical amimia, loss of the power of playing on an instrument. Blocq, like Onanoff, adopts an analogous classification, distinguishing a receptive, or sensory amusia, and a motor or expressional amusia, the former including auditory amusia and musical alexia, and the latter comprising true amusia (loss of the power of singing), musical amimia, and musical agraphia. True sensory amusia may be termed musical deafness, and musical alexia may be termed musical blindness. Concerning the pathologic significance of amusia almost everything is yet to be learned, but it is certain that Blocq has by his analysis of the data now in our possession, done much to facilitate the necessary investigation. AN AMERICAN OPINION

As to the Result of the Paris Arbitration.

WHAT EX-MINISTER COOLIDGE SAYS

Stand Taken by the Two Sides on the Question.

He Thinks the Tribunal Will Promulgate a New Principle in International Law for the Benefit of the Americans, But in Any Event There Will be a Close Season.

New York, June 5.—Hon. Jefferson Coolidge, ex-Minister of the United States to France, arrived in New York yesterday with his family on the steamer La Bourgoyne. Referring to the Behring Sea tribunal at Paris, Coolidge said last night that Carter opened the discussion for the United States in an exceedingly brilliant speech, in which he claimed that seals were not really wild animals, but that they could be herded just as oxen can be herded, and that they lived on our property all but a few months in the year and never mixed with other herds. The British, on the other hand, rest their case on the old three-mile limit rule and feel that they have the law on their side. Russia is taking no part in the discussion. The forgeries in the American case were so promptly disavowed and withdrawn that they have not prejudiced the case at all. In order to decide in our favor the tribunal will have to lay down some new principle of international law, and I think there is a very fair prospect of their doing this. Any new law formulated by them would undoubtedly be approved by all nations. Even if they should decide against us they will probably devise some means by which the seals can be protected and preserved, such as a closed season, for instance.

Farmer Oneturf's Adventure.

Laurenceburg, Ind., June 5.—Samuel Oneturf, a rich farmer of Ripley county, was arrested for highway robbery on the affidavit of Wm. Morris several years ago. Morris was a young farmer, who asserted that he had been held up on the highway. He swore that the mask of one of the robbers dropped off and he recognized Oneturf. When the jury was out Oneturf disappeared from the court room and was never heard of again until last week, when he appeared in the court house and demanded a new trial, offering in evidence an affidavit from Morris, who swore that he had never been robbed, and that he had accused Oneturf for revenge. Oneturf explained that on the night the jury was out he fled from the court room and hid in the branches of a tree that shaded the windows of the jury room and heard the jury agree to a verdict of three years' imprisonment and a heavy fine. When the police went to summons Morris yesterday they found he had fled the country.

Reciprocity Convention.

St. Paul, Minn., June 5.—The city is crowded with delegates from the west, northwest, and the various provinces of Canada to the international reciprocity convention, which opened this afternoon at the Auditorium. The convention rose out of the gathering held at Grand Forks, North Dakota, last year, and its object is to bring about a unification of interests on the part of Canada and the United States for a deep waterway from Duluth to the Atlantic, and that the commercial barriers now existing between the States and the Canadian provinces may be broken down. The convention will be in session for two days, and the delegates will be hospitably entertained by the citizens of St. Paul.

No Hope for Booth.

New York, June 5.—Dr. St. Clair Smith, Edwin Booth's physician, issued the following bulletin at 9:30 this morning: "I have seen no improvement during the night." Pressed for more definite information as to the actor's condition, Dr. Smith said: "I cannot add anything to the bulletin issued at 5 o'clock last night saying that my patient is growing weaker and that there is no hope of even partial recovery. His condition is very critical this morning." Booth rallied from his relapse of a week ago Saturday, until last Saturday, when he suddenly grew worse.

Dr. Smith was then hastily summoned, but despite his best efforts Booth grew worse and became much weaker. Last night Booth suffered greatly for want of air. It was 2 o'clock before he fell into a troubled slumber, which continued until about 8 o'clock this morning.

Temperance Congress.

Chicago, June 5.—The great world's temperance congress, the fourth of the series of international gatherings in connection with the World's Fair, opens to-night at the art palace, and to-day the spacious rooms of that structure are crowded with advocates of temperance, male and female, young and old. American and foreign, all anxious to inscribe their names upon the register, and to obtain the badges of white denoting purity, that will serve to indicate their identification with the event. From all appearances it will be the biggest temperance congress ever held, for nearly every temperance organization on the face of the globe has appointed delegates. During the week papers will be read covering the scientific, social, political, medical, legislative and economical aspects of the liquor question, also touching upon hours of work, coffee houses, total abstinence, and other phases of the drink question. Hon. C. C. Bonney, chairman of the world's congress auxiliary, Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. Charles Henrotin will welcome the delegates at the opening meeting to-night.

Sage's Shield Sues.

New York, June 5.—In the supreme court, before Justice Andrews, was begun this morning the trial of the action of William R. Laidlaw, stock clerk, to recover $50,000 damages from Russell Sage, the wealthy Wall street operator, on allegations that Sage made a shield out of Laidlaw when Norcross threw the dynamite bomb in Sage's office, 51 Broadway. Laidlaw contends that Sage, when he saw Norcross throw the fatal bomb, drew him in front of him, so that Laidlaw got a share of the dynamite that was intended for Sage.

EULALIE'S RECEPTION.

How the Infanta Will Spend the Time During Her Visit to Porkopolis.

Chicago, June 3.—Everything is in readiness at the Palmer House for the reception of the Princess Eulalie and her suite. According to he original programme she should have reached Chicago a week ago, but the New York festivities necessitated a change in the arrangements, and her abiding place was changed from the Auditorium Hotel, where the Duke of Verrgua and his suite have been staying, to the Palmer House. Here 11 rooms have been set apart for the distinguished visitor and her retinue. The apartments are furnished in green and gold, decorated with flags and flowers.

The sleeping chamber is the one that has been occupied at different times by the late Emperor Dom Pedro, President Cleveland, Gen. Grant, Princess Louise, Lady Aberdeen and other distinguished people of all countries. The corridor leading to the suite will be guarded by officers of the Spanish army, and the princess will be enabled to promenade, eat, and sleep as much as she pleases without exposing herself to the gaze of the vulgar herd, when she is not so inclined.

The gold pass to Jackson Park, which is to be presented to her on behalf of the directory, was finished by the engravers this morning. Upon her arrival the depot will be guarded by a company of cavalry from Fort Sheridan. The carriage will be drawn by four white horses, and a company of mounted police, led by 12 trumpters, will clear the way to the hotel. No one will be permitted to send her invitations for social events except through Mayor Harrison.

MEDICAL CONGRESS.

Series of Papers on Medicine and Surgery Read at Saturday's Meeting.

Chicago, June 5.—The great world's congress of medicine came to a close on Saturday night, and the delegates were on hand bright and early at the art palace that the programme might be kept within the limitation of time. A heavy schedule had been prepared for the medicos, but they commenced it without a murmur. The proceedings opened with the reading of a paper by Dr. A. C. Pope of England, on methods of enlightening the public on homeopathy. After this subject had been discussed the department of rhinology and laryngology was formally opened with an inaugural address by Dr. H. C. Ivins, of Philadelphia.

The following papers were then read and discussed: Chronic catarrh as treated by the Homoepath, Charles E. Leets, of New York; nasal epithelioma, W. A. Dunn, of Chicago; cancer of the throat, H. F. Fisher, Nashville; nasal surgery, its uses and limitation, E. L. Mann, St. Paul. Emily V. Pardee, of South Norwalk, Conn., delivered the introductory address in the section of paedology, and was followed by Millie J. Chapman, of Pittsburg, who presented a paper on prenatal medication; rachitis, Robert N. Tooker; the awkward gait of children, Sidney F. Wilcox; contagion in our public schools and its prophylaxis, Lucy C. Hill; headache in children, Gerard Smith; albuminuria in children, Henry C. Aldrich, William P. Ray and Dudley Wright; enteric diseases of children with homoeopathic treatment, E. Louis Orleman; and neuroses of the bowels by E. Lippincott. The concluding sessions of the eclectic congress, the congress of medical climatology, and the social purity congress are also being held to-day.

TO CONSIDER TRUSTS.

Convention of State Delegates to Deal With Trade Combinations.

Chicago, June 5.—Upon a call issued by Governor Nelson, of Minnesota, one of the most remarkable conventions of recent years is in session to-day in Central Music hall. It is composed of delegates appointed by the governors of a large majority of the states of the union, and its object is to consider the question of combination to raise the price of fuel, and indirectly to consider the subject of trusts.

The convention had its origin in a resolution passed last winter by the Minnesota legislature requesting the governors of other states to appoint commissioners to meet and endeavor to formulate some plan for grappling with the coal combine. This resolution provided that the meeting should be held at such place as the majority of the governors might agree upon. Communications were at once sent out by Governor Nelson, and as a large majority of those addressed voted in favor of Chicago, this city was decided upon.

The convention will be in session for two days, and according to the temper of the delegates, as manifested this morning, the body will go beyond the coal combine and take up trusts in general. The delegates began to gather soon after 9 o'clock, and an hour later the register in the rotunda of the hall showed that the following among other states were represented: Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, Texas, Iowa, Nebraska, California, Kansas, Tennessee, Arkansas, Maine, South and North Carolina, Colorado, West Virginia, North Dakota and South Dakota, Montana, Maryland, Florida, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Nevada, Alabama, Minnesota. Numerous delegations were reported as being en route. Amongst those early in attendance were Ignatius Donnelly and Frank F. Davis, the leading orators of Minnesota; E. F. Clark, C. C. Clemens, Judge Houk and J. B. Johnson, of Kansas; C. E. Henry, J. H. Brigham and W. H. Lawrence, of Ohio; Albion W. Tourgee.

When the convention had been called to order the call under which the gathering had convened and which was adopted by the Minnesota legislature, was read. It was as follows:

Whereas certain railroad corporations and coal mine owners of Pennsylvania and other states have united in an unlawful combination or trust to prevent competition and maintain the price of coal at an unreasonable rate, and have for that purpose spread their monopoly over all the northern states of the union, plundering the people thereof of millions of dollars annually; and, whereas it is difficult for any one state to contend alone successfully with this gigantic interstate conspiracy and overthrow such an evil, the powers of all the states of the national government must be invoked for the protection of the people of the entire country; and to that end, therefore, be it resolved, by the legislature of the state of Minnesota, that the governor is respectfully requested to correspond with the governors of all the states of the United States of America, and to request them to appoint commissioners to meet on the first Monday in June of this year, at such place as the said governors may agree upon, to confer and formulate such remedial measures as may be necessary to abate this great evil, and to submit the same to their respective states and to the next congress of the United States for their consideration and action, and to take all other steps which they may deem wise and proper for the prosecution of the members of said unlawful combinations in their respective states.

While the reading was in progress the attendance was largely increased, delegations arriving from Maine, Mississippi, Georgia, Rhode Island, Idaho, Wyoming, Kentucky, Oregon, Utah and Louisiana. It was said informally that Indiana and New York were the only states not represented. The invitation issued by Governor Nelson to the various commonwealths was then presented. It said, among other things, "I have the honor to submit to you a copy of a joint resolution of the legislature of Minnesota in reference to a proposed interstate conference touching widespread evils resulting from the unlawful combination whereby the owners of coal lands, acting in conjunction with railroad corporations, have put up the price of coal, precluded competition, monopolized the markets, and inflicted great injury upon the consumers of this article, either for domestic or manufacturing purposes. The evils have reached such a proportion that no one state is able to grapple with them, and the state of Minnesota, I may say the whole people, are earnestly in favor of a meeting of delegates to consider the whole subject and suggest remedial measures to the legislatures of the respective states, and to the congress of the United States. There can be no doubt that if a conference of 440 delegates assembled for the purpose herein proposed, representing all the states of the union, its deliberations will attract the attention of the whole world, and it will do a great deal to break down the gigantic coal combine which is now bringing suffering to a million firesides in our land besides arousing a concerted public sentiment upon all trusts and rings which oppress the people."

After the reading and a short address by Governor Nelson, of Minnesota, by whom the gathering had been called to order, committees on credentials and order of business were appointed and a recess was taken.

British Iron and Steel.

At the meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute of Great Britain President Richards said 1892 had been one of the worst years ever known in the iron and steel industries. Those industries were all greatly depressed and the outlook was gloomy. The production of pig iron had fallen off 600,000 tons, and steel rails were in a worse condition. The total falling off in the exports of metals and machinery in 1892, as compared with 1891, amounted to £7,000,000. The markets were now swamped, and there was not enough work for half the country's steel production.

Villard's Prophecies.

Washington, D.C., June 3.—During the close of the session Henry Villard was very anxious to have the Sherman silver law repealed. To-day he recalled predictions he had made at that time, and said people called him an alarmist and pessimist because he predicted financial crisis. "The worst has not been reached," said Villard, "there will be more financial troubles than we are having. I do not care to unnecessarily alarm people, but the situation has turned as I pointed out last winter."

"Would the immediate repeal of the Sherman law help the situation now?"

"I am afraid it is too late," said Villard, "yet it would possibly restore confidence. Damage has already been done. European countries have become alarmed because of the American silver policy, but the repeal would probably avert the coming disasters."

Was There an Age of Copper.

M. Berthelot, the well-known French technicist, in a recent communication to the Academie des Schiences, states his belief in the some-time existence of an age of copper in addition to the three recognized archaeological eons of stone, bronze (copper and tin), and iron. He bases his opinion chiefly upon an analysis of a piece of copper which had been found by M. de Sarzec in course of antiquarian investigations in Mesopotamia, or Al Jezira, as the Arabs designate the famous stretch of country between the Euphrates and the Tigris. The fragment thus chemically determined proves to have neither tin nor zinc entering into its composition, there being simply traces of lead and arsenic. Water and the atmosphere had made ravages into the specimen, which was practically suboxid or a compound of protoxid and metallic copper. As the ruins from which the piece of metal was taken are authoritatively considered to be more ancient than even those of Babylon, M. Berthelot does not hesitate to promulgate the theory that an age of copper preceded the bronze and iron periods, especially as the examination of the component parts of a portion of a metallic sceptre, which, it is alleged, belonged to a Pharaoh who reigned in Egypt some 3500 years B.C., showed no signs of the presence of tin.—"Iron."

Colonel Roots' Will.

Little Rock, Ark., June 5.—The will of the late Col. L. H. Roots will be probated next Friday. The will was drawn by himself in 1891. Later in the same year a codicil was attached. The estate is valued at $1,400,000, and consists of cash and government and railroad bonds. It is to be held intact till 1914. One half of the income at that time is to go to the widow and daughter for their support; one-tenth to be devoted to charity and humanitarian purposes, to be determined by the executors; one-tenth goes to Major P. K. Roots and his family; another tenth to a sister. The remaining two-tenths to be invested. He authorizes an income of $20,000 to be paid to the city of Little Rock for the period of 70 years for the support of the poor and needy. After 1914, after payment of legacies amounting to $500,000, the residue of the estate in the event that the state of Arkansas, county of Pulaski, or the city of Little Rock, or the residents thereof will raise an equal fund, is to go for park and hospital purposes. The residue named for the park and hospital purposes will amount to $700,000. A portion of the hospital is to be set aside for old and destitute Masons.

A Characteristic Letter of Ruskin's.

The following curious letter was written by Ruskin, in response to an appeal for help to pay off the debt on a chapel at Richmond:—

Brantwood, Coniston, Lancashire,
May 19, 1886.

Sir,—I am scornfully amused at your appeal to me, of all people in the world the precisely least likely to give you a farthing! My first word to all men and boys who care to hear me is, "Don't get into debt. Starve and go to heaven—but don't borrow. Try first begging—I don't mind, if it's really needful, stealing! But don't buy things you can't pay for!"

And of all manner of debtors, pious people building churches they can't pay for are the most detestable nonsense to me. Can't you preach and pray behind the hedges—or in a sand pit—or a coal hole—first?

And of all manner of churches thus idiotically built, iron churches are the damnablest to me.

And of all the sects of believers in any ruling spirit—Hindoos, Turks, Feather Idolators and Mumbo Jumbo, Log and Fire worshippers—who want churches, your modern English Evangelical sect is the most absurd and entirely objectionable and unendurable to me. All which they might very well have found out from my books—any other sort of sect would—before bothering me to write it to them.

Ever, nevertheless, and in all this saying,
Your faithful servant,
JOHN RUSKIN.

The recipient of the letter promptly sold it for £10.

Beyond the Tomb.

Lately Dr. St. George Mivart, a well-known English Roman Catholic and distinguished anatomist, surprised all and pleased many by a dissertation on happiness in hell. For him the bad place is, on the whole, a good place—something better than the Homeric Hades such as Tiresias found it on the occasion of his famous visit. Mr. St. George Vivart is now followed by the well known Frenchman of science, M. Louis Figuier, in a book entitled "Happiness Beyond the Tomb" ("Les Bonheurs d'outre Tombe"). For him, as for the late General Gordon, there is only one kingdom beyond the grave—the kingdom of happiness, more or less, for all. He contends for its existence by proofs independent of religion and drawn exclusively from philosophy and science.

STEAMER DANUBE'S TROUBLE

Detained in Quarantine Although There Was no Smallpox.

CAPT. IRVING WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES

Capt. Meyers Makes a Statment Regarding the Treatment His Vessel Has Received Since Her Arrival at Portland.

Over at the Victoria dock the steamship Danube is lying, says the Oregonian. She was released from quarantine yesterday morning, and at 10:30 o'clock Collector Lotan, armed with a big bundle of certificates and accompanied by Interpreter Richards, went aboard and began the work of questioning her passengers to ascertain whether they were returned merchants entitled to land or cunning coolies endeavoring to baffle the laws made and provided for their exclusion from this land of the free and discontented of other nations. At 5 p. m. 111 of the 503 pig-tailed passengers had faced the inquisition upon the ship's bridge, and of that number 65 were allowed to land and 46 were sent back to nurse their disappointment, curse their "coacher," and receive the sympathy of their penned-up compatriots awaiting the same ordeal. The collector will resume his wearisome task this morning, and the week will be out before it is concluded.

The scene aboard the ship and on the dock did not differ materially from that enacted three weeks ago, and while the Danube was discharging a similar cargo at the Ainsworth wharf. There were the same barriers to prevent communication between passengers and their friends ashore, the same swarming hold and crowded deck, the same resemblance to vessels described by W. Clark Russell and other authors of slave-ship stories. The several doses of fumigation to which the Danube was treated while she lay in quarantine did not improve her appearance or her odor any more than the vaccination of the passengers enhanced their general happiness. The present cargo is not so respectable in appearance as the first crowd, nor does it average the same amount of intelligence, as is shown by the large number of rejected yesterday.

The Danube's commander is not satisfied with the treatment his vessel has received since her arrival in Portland.

"Now that Dr. Wheeler and the city board of health have had their way of playing at quarantine with the Danube and her 500 Chinese passengers," said Capt. Meyers yesterday, "I may as well give you the details of how it was played. If any one really having had experience in small-pox cases will come forward and say that the process as adopted by Dr. Wheeler in this case would have prevented the spread of the disease, had it existed, I would like to see the person.

"After the Danube arrived in this port it was fully 38 hours before she was ordered to be quarantined, no one having communication with the shore or vice versa. Then, again, it was fully 48 hours after being so quarantined that any steps were taken to prevent the spreading of the disease by vaccinating the people, and this after Dr. Wheeler had several times expressed himself in the newspapers to the effect that the only way to prevent the disease from spreading was to vaccinate every one on board the ship at once. The first vaccination of 60 persons was done on Monday, the 22nd, and the process was not completed until Friday, the 26th, in the afternoon, or very nearly eight days after the ship arrived in port. This vaccination, I am told, has taken no effect on the majority of the people. It certainly has not taken any effect on myself. Between May 23rd and May 28th the different compartments in the ship's hold were treated to some sort of fumigation, leaving the deckhouses and other places occupied by Chinese passengers out altogether. If any fleas were killed by the process I have not heard of it. Certainly no rats have been found that lost their lives through it, and of which creatures I have reason to know there were some in the ship's hold. From this I infer that it is questionable whether any small-pox germs were killed by such fumigation, if there were any.

"I think it can reasonably be held that the contentions of Doctors Kinney and Walker of Astoria that there never was any small-pox on the ship has fully been borne out, as well as the statement of the health officers in British Columbia, who handled the 500 Chinese, more or less, every day the preceding two weeks, and who are used to handling small-pox cases frequently. Otherwise it would have been impossible for a number of the dead man's friends to have escaped, because, while sick, he was in almost a continual perspiration, which, by the way, is not a symptom of small-pox, and some of his friends were in the room with him all the time, sitting in close contact with him while nursing him, until a few hours before his death, when they could not get near him on account of their being locked out.

"While stating these facts I wish to say that I do not wish to cast any reflection whatever on Dr. Wheeler, who, I believe, has been sincere in his opinion, and has acted most considerately throughout; but must say that if he had taken more time to investigate the case of illness, and had gotten the verdict of some other medical men before the hasty interment of the body, knowing at the time that he had no means at his command to properly treat such a shipload of people had there really been a small-pox case on board, he would have saved himself a lot of trouble, the Japanese a lot of discomfort, and the ship a lot of useless expense and delay."

As soon as the quarantine was declared at an end, United States deputy Marshal Gregg swooped down upon the much-chastened steamer with a libel from Judge Bellinger's court. The libel had been filed last Monday. Capt. Daniel McVicar, of the bar pilots, was the libellant, and he seeks to recover the sum of $81.66, half pilotage on the steamer ofr her inward trip. He says he spoke the ship, thus earning half pilotage under the law, in case his services are declined. Capt. E. W. Spencer went on the Danube's bonds for $350 and she was released.

It was stated yesterday by the Danube's captain that the pilot's schooner was at least three miles away from the Danube when McVicar spoke her, and that the libel has been brought simply to test the legality of the commissioners' decision that unless a pilot is within a mile of the vessel he speaks she need not accept his services, nor can she be held accountable for declining them.

The Chinese do not propose to lose their opportunity to get their friends off the Danube in the same way they did on her last trip. This was occasioned by Capt. Myers making his escape out to sea on French leave before the habeas corpus writs they had sworn out could be served upon him. Before the Danube was out of quarantine they had hunted up Attorney Charles F. Lord and had two writs drawn up and served on Capt. Myers. One of them asks for the release of Leong Ling and is sworn to by Leong Yonk Tong. This is made returnable to-day at 4 p. m. Charles Tong swears to the other petition, which calls for nine of the Danube's passengers. Both the complainants, of course, recite that the passengers are merchants and are unlawfully restrained of their liberty. Leong Ling's case is made the object of a special petition, because Collector Lotan had already passed upon him and refused to allow him to land. The writ for the other nine is made returnable at 2 p. m. Monday, by which time their cases will have been passed upon. In case any of the other nine are admitted by the customs house authorities, the habeas corpus procedings will, of course, be waived so far as they are concerned.

THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

Labouchere Irreverently Pokes Fun at the Opening Ceremonies.

A Fellow of the Imperial Institute gives me the following experience, which caps anything in the same line that I have yet heard of. He joined in the first instance by express invitation, and with a view to witnessing the opening ceremony, he paid the requisite two guineas for the "Fellowship." At the end of March he wrote to enquire about the arrangements for the opening. He had to write a second time before he got an answer. The answer was a packet of printed matter from which he gathered that if he wanted a ticket for the opning he must pay two guineas more. He paid. No results followed. He wrote again, and yet again; and then he was informed that "the whole of the seats in the Great Hall were allored to first applicants, not later than April 8," and recommending him to apply to "the lessees of the stands." This poor Fellow thinks he has been made a Fool of. I agree. On the other hand, Sir Somers Vine has been made a C. M. G., which, no doubt, is gratifying to the subscribers.

THE SONG OF THE LATEST SOUTH KENSINGTON SHOWMEN.

(Vide the Imperial Institute Advts.—passim.)

Walk up! walk up! and see our Show,
For, great beyond all bounds,
Are the attractions we provide
On payment of two pounds.

We've a most expensive building,
With a lavish lot of gilding—
A well-appointed club-house for your use;
With a very grand Committee,
Peers and magnates from the City,
And a staff, of course, with salaries profuse.

There's a fine saloon for dining,
Rooms for smoking and for wining,
And a dancing hall we hope to soon adorn;
Whilst, should no one cut up rusty,
We've a garden which, though dusty,
May ere long be made a sort of "smart" Cremorne.

In good time, if we should flourish,
We your intellect will nourish,
With a case of frozen mutton from Geelong;
With some Kany coffee-berries,
Some Australian ports and sherries,
And a model of the dockyard at Hong Kong;

There'll be emigration tables,
Some Canadian (damaged) sables
With penny sample cups of Assam tea;
Some Vancouver woods, in panels,
Indian rugs, and Cashmere flannels,
And a photograph of Sydney from the sea!

More, we'll give you a diploma
Steeped in Royalty's aroma,
In token of your newly-granted fame;
And the right to ape your betters
In the use of magic letters,
By putting "F. Imp. Inst." behind your name.

Then, your joys to further mellow
When elected as a fellow,
And to prove that your subscription is not dear,
We'll engage that we'll provide you,
And your better-halves beside you,
With a chance to mob a Princelet once a year!

Should you drop the observation
That Imperial Federation
Is scarcely to be aided in this way;
We resent such idle chatter,
For whatever does it matter
So long as we, the Showmen, draw our pay?

Send your money, then, most humbly,
Take whate'er we offer—dumbly,
And be careful all complaining to eschew;
For, should other delectations
Fail to meet anticipations,
There will always be Sir Somers Vine on view!

So, walk up! walk up! and join our Show,
For great, beyond all bounds,
Are the attractions we provide
For all who'll pay two pounds!

—Truth.

Gallant Rescue by a Dublin Priest.

An exciting scene occurred on the river Liffey at Essex quay, Dublin, the other evening, when the thoroughfares on both sides of the river were crowded by people returning from the labor demonstration in Phoenix park. A young lad about six years of age named O'Reilly was leaning over the river wall when he fell in. The Rev. Father Cassidy, of the Church of Adam and Eve, happened to be passing, when his attention was attracted by the cries of the boy in the water. He threw off his coat and hat, jumped into the river, and succeeded in preventing the boy from sinking. A fireman threw a lifebuoy to Father Casidy, who grasped it and was brought to one of the ladders on the quay wall, when, with the assistance of a soldier who came on the scene, the lad was taken from his rescuer and brought up to the ground level. He was afterwards conveyed to Jervis street hospital, where he was detained. On reacbing the quay the priest was greeted with loud cheers for his bravery.

Frozen Mutton Industry.

Some idea of the gigantic proportions which this industry has attained may be gathered from the fact that one of the establishments alone, the Australian Chilling and Freezing Works, at Aberdeen, on the Great Northern Railway, 162 miles from Sydney and some 87 miles beyond Newcastle, can freeze 850 and chill 1500 sheep daily. The vessels load at Newcastle, a special train conveying the mutton to that port, where as many as 6000 sheep have been loaded in one day. The steamers carry their cargoes to England. The vessels are provided with refrigerating machinery, and deliver their cargoes in frozen condition.

A Wonderful Cabinet.

Mr. James Ross, cabinet-maker, Kincardine, Ontario, has just completed the most wonderful piece of furniture ever shown in the Dominion. It has taken all his spare time since the year 1888 and a large amount of patience and perseverance to make this great secretary and writing-desk. It will be very useful for either business or private use, and would be also an ornament to any parlor. The main part is made of dark walnut, and is inlaid with the greatest collection of woods ever seen. The woods have been obtained from different parts of Canada, the United States and Europe. There are over 53,000 pieces in the cabinet, of all shades and colors. On the lower part are half-revolving doors, which, when opened, by a secret spring, disappear noiselessly and lock automatically, when closed. The top is set on in European style and contains a clock which tells the time of day. The dial is of white holly, with inlaid ebony figures, and in the centre is a twelve-pointed star, the points indicating the hours of the day. This star only covers two inches of space, but contains 284 pieces of wood, of various shades and colors. This wonderful timepiece has not varied one minute in the last three months. The cabinet is of original design, and is faultless all through. It is made up of 5, 6, 8 and 12-pointed stars (over 80 stars in all), also the emblems of all the societies. The natural color of the wood shows very clearly through the beautiful, oil finish. It is all solid inlaid work (no veneers) and is worked by secret springs throughout. Mr. Ross, who has been engaged for the past three years as a pattern-maker, intends making a tour through parts of Canada and the United States with this beautiful cabinet, after exhibiting it at the World's Fair.

HALF-DEAD!

THOUSANDS IN THIS CONDITION

You See the Signs of Disease in Faces You Meet!

THE ONLY TRUE LIFE-GIVER!

If an ordinary observer were asked in what respect an animal differs from a stone, he would quickly answer that it differs in being alive. Ask the most superficial reasoner to tell you the difference between the man who is diseased and suffering and the man who enjoys health to its fullest extent, he will answer at once, the one is half dead, and the other has life.

We see around us every day a small army of men and women whose faces plainly indicate impure blood, sluggish circulation, nervousness, dyspepsia, biliousness and other ailments. These unfortunate mortals merely breathe and exist. hey know not what true and real life is, they are strangers to health and happiness.

It is cheering to know that thousands of such individuals have sought the curing powers of Paine's Celery Compound, that great scientific health-giver. Men and women to-day are wiser than they were a few years ago. The doctor does not get the same chance to run up a heavy bill for visits made, and prescribing medicines that often are useless. In nine cases out of ten, two or three bottles of Paine's Celery Compound will do better work than the spending of ten times the amount with doctors. Thousands of our best Canadian people have used Paine's Celery Compound, and have been blessed with new life and health. No other medicine in the world has ever received such honest and merited testimon-. When you go to buy from your druggist, see that you get Paine's Celery Compound; do not be induced to change your mind by any dealer; consider your own life, and not the convenience of any druggist or dealer.

Tin in Mexico.

London Iron says:—"A discovery of 'extensive and rich deposits' of tin in the south of Guyanjuanto, Mexico, has caused quite a stir in mining circles in that republic. The find was made by an expert who has been investigating the mineral resources of the country for a Philadelphia syndicate, and development operations on the new stanniferous deposits, which, it appears, bear traces of ancient, probably Aztec, exploitation, are to be commenced as soon as the necessary plant has been procured. A ready market, it is naturally expected, will be found in the United States for the tin obtained."

Dr. West calls particular attention to the Chase Metallic Roof Plate, which is the best denture ever devised, and for which he is the sole licensee for B.C. Its points of superiority are—lightness, strength, conductivity, and perfect adaptation, thus giving it all the advantages of an all gold plate with none of its disadvantages, and at a price within the reach of all. To examine a specimen plate will convince at once the truth of the above assertions. All dental work performed carefully and skilfully. THE FRENCH TREATY.

Minister Foster seems to be bent on making it difficult for parliament to ratify the treaty negotiated with France some months ago. In a blue-book giving a "revised and enlarged" acount of the treaty a considerable amount of detailed information is offered, from which it would appear that France would benefit much more than Canada by the arrangement. From the memoranda given it appears that the exports from Canada to France for the year ending June 30 last of goods affected by the treaty aggregated in value $322,786, duty on which under the proposed new schedule would be reduced by $29,778. For the year ending June 30, 1891, the value of the Canadian exports of goods affected was $179,826, on which the proposed reduction would amount of $16,282. The imports from France of articles affected for 1892 aggregated in value to $288,209, on which the reduction would be $61,156. For 1891 the imports were valued at $307,097, on which the reduction of duty would be $82,929. In addition to this there are in these two years reductions of $71,711 and $77,532 respectively on similar articles imported from countries other than France. The comparative results would then stand: Loss to Canada on basis of importations for year ending 30th June, 1892, direct, $61,156; indirect, $71,711. Loss to France on basis of exportation of same year, $20,778; net loss to Canada, $103,089; loss to Canada on basis of importation for year ending 30th June, 1891, direct, $82,929; indirect, $77,532; gain to France on basis of importation for same year, $19,116, giving that country an advantage of $179,587 From this must be deducted the loss to France of $23,439 on exportations to St. Pierre and St. Miquelon. It must be assumed that all these details are furnished for the purpose of aiding parliament to come to an intelligent decision as regards the treaty, but we should suppose they would not tend to make ratification any easier. Having appointed commissioners to negotiate the treaty, and having approved the proceedings of those commissioners, the government is in honor bound to ask for its ratification, so it is hard to see why seeming arguments against it should be furnished in a blue-book. But it is always difficult to tell what we are to expect from politicians of the Foster stamp.

An Ottawa dispatch makes the following remarkable statements: "The Rev. Father Gendreau, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart, has written a letter to Le Canada, acknowledging the truth of the newspaper assertion that he had announced from his pulpit on the eve of the last elections the intention of the bishop to issue a joint pastoral on the Manitoba school question and that he had afterwards ascertained in Montreal the withdrawal of the pastoral before it was read from the pulpit. This disposes of the interview with Archbishop Duhamel, who denied Le Canada's statements in so far as his own knowledge was concerned. Whether Archbishop Duhamel knew of it or not it is clear that the bargain was struck between the church and the Government in order to stifle the school question during the general campaign of March, 1891."

The announcement is made that Sir Hector Langevin is preparing his memoirs for publication, and that he will in them refute the charges made against him. Sir Hector's volume is expected to be very interesting, but it will not be so interesting as it might be made. He could, for instance, let much light in upon the Pacific scandal and other episodes in Canada's political history, with which he was closely connected. It is safe to predict, however, that these will not be very frankly and fully dealt with in his "memoir."

Winnipeg Free Press: The tariff will stand some cutting. Last year there were paid $50,000 in customs dues on $100,000 worth of cast iron pipe, $94,000 on $270,000 worth of umbrellas, $250,000 on $783,000 worth of tweed, $563,000 on $1,715,000 worth of woollen cloths, and $405,000 on $471,000 worth of coal oil, naphtha, etc. The rate of duty on these articles varies from over 30 to nearly 90 per cent.

One day last week a deputation of temperance men waited on Dalton McCarthy with a view to inducing him to include temperance in his platform. It does not appear that Mr. McCarthy committed himself to this, and it is not likely that he will adopt the temperance plank. Perhaps he thinks his "party" is mixed enough without his taking such a step.

TALLEST IN THE WORLD.

Some Facts in Regard to Chicago's "Sky-Scraping" Structures.

The tall buildings of Chicago will astonish visitors from rural districts and most great towns. These buildings are steel-framed, with an outer casing of masonry, and set upon great pads of steel and cement. These pads are made by laying alternate courses of steel beams crosswise, one upon the other. Each pair of courses of steel is filled in and solidified with cement, and then the next two courses are added and similarly treated. Each pad when finished is eighteen inches thick and perhaps eighteen feet square, but varied, to distribute the weight of the building at about the average of a ton a foot square. This peculiar process is necessitated by the character of the land. The bed of clay underneath Chicago acts while under pressure like a pan of dough, or like a blanket tautened at the edges, and held clear of underneath support. It is upon these necessary steel pads that tall buildings rise like steeples on every hand in the heart of the city, inviting the strangers to pass up and down their light and elegant courts in the swift express elevators everywhere provided.

The tallest of these preposterous piles and the highest building in the world is the Masonic Temple. Its topmost story is 298 feet above the corner stone. The ceiling of the garden roof is 302 feet up in the air, and the roof itself is 32 feet higher than any point of observation in the auditorium tower, and 28 feet above any point accessible to the public in Chicago. The roof is entirely enclosed with sliding windows and covered with its own roofing of heavy plate glass. It is provided with steam heating pipes for the comfort of visitors during cold weather, and is ornamented with flowers and plants. It is in reality an additional story, the 21st in order. During the period of the World's Fair music and refreshments will be provided here for 2,000 persons.

This great roof chamber is reached by 17 elevators. Fourteen of these are for passengers, forming a semi-circle at one side of the interior court, and an imposing battery in the rotunda on the ground floor. These elevators are run to a greater height than any in the world except those of the Eiffel tower. They are forced to a distance of 258 feet at the speed of 750 feet a minute. Seven of the elevators are run "express" to the tenth floor, and then begin to make stops at the higher stories. The view embraces all Chicago, Lincoln park on the north, the World's Fair grounds on the south, the roofs of the city extending westward, the T-shaped river, the magnificent lake, the breakwater, cribs, the curving shore and the varying collection of shipping on the east. The sight repays for the ascent.

The Masonic Fraternity Temple Association, a company with a capitalized stock of $2,000,000, in 20,000 one-hundred dollar shares, owns the building. In addition, by the issue of bonds, the company has raised $1,500,000 to meet the $3,500,000 needed to complete the undertaking. The value of the stock subscribed in Chicago was $1,500,000. The first sixteen stories are arranged for offices, the four next succeeding floors for Masonic lodge rooms, cloak rooms, an assembly hall, a kitchen, a smoking room, and for other uses; forming altogether the finest all-round headquarters at the disposal of any organization in the world.

The Jaffa & Jerusalem Railway.

The Engineering News says: "A recent consular report by Mr. Selah Merrill, United States consult at Jerusalem, gives the following particulars regarding this interesting railway, the first built in Palestine or Syria, and already described in our columns: The road is 56.3 miles long, with 30 miles located on the plains and the remainder over mountainous country. There are no tunnels, long detours being preferred, but there are four fine iron bridges and at least five deep cuttings. The steepest grade is 2 per cent., or about 104 feet to the mile. The gauge is one meter, or 3.28 feet, and the wooden ties used came from France and cost at Jaffa 80 cents each. The rails were made in France and Belgium, and the five locomotives in use came from the Baldwin Locomotive Works in Philadelphia. The cars were made in France, and have end doors and a central passage, and are divided into compartments by partitions and doors. About 200 tons of Belgian and Cardiff coal are used per day. There are five stations on the line between Jaffa and Jerusalem, and the eight and a half acres of land at the terminal, about one mile outside the latter city, cost $25,000, whereas 30 years ago the same land was sold for $1 an acre. This station is 2476 feet above the level of the Jaffa station. The entire road cost about $2,000,000, and was built by a French company organized in 1889. The common labor was performed by Arabs and Egyptians, who were paid from 30 cents to 50 cents per day. The stone cutters from Bethlehem received from 70 cents to $1 per day, but they are efficient workmen in stone, made so by many generations of training. There is about 10 inches of stone ballast on the roadbed and a considerable amount of stone retaining wall. The engineer in charge of surveys and construction was Mr. Gerald Eberhard, a Swiss, who was engaged on the Panama railway for about eight years. The running time between Jaffa and Jerusalem is 1 3-4 hours down grade and 3 1-2 hours coming up, and the fare is $2.50 first and $1 second class."

The Grippe Microbe.

Dr. Pfeiffer, the discoverer of the specific germ which causes influenza, has recently published the results of his important experiments with the influenza microbes. Examination proved that the deadly germs are most easily found in expectoration from the deeper portions of the lungs, where they are intrenched in greatest numbers. The German bacteriologist found that the influenza bacilli die rapidly both in dry places and in drinking water, but live and flourish in nutrient media, especially in mucus and in the protoplasm of the pus cells. As summed up in a translation of his paper, which appears in the New York Medical Record, Dr. Pfeiffer's conclusions are as follows:

1. The development of influenza bacilli outside of the human body in soil and water is impossible.
2. The spreading of the disease through dried expectoration mingled with dust is very unusual.
3. The contagion is in the moist secretions of acute cases, and is found in the nasal and bronchial mucous membrane of influenza patients.

In view of the great ravages of la grippe during the last three years, these discoveries ought to be turned to good account in checking future epidemics of a disease which many think has proved more fatal than Asiatic cholera itself.

AMERICAN NEWS NOTES.

Daily Chronicle of Events in The Great Republic.

Chicago, June 5.—Another "open house" was kept at Victoria House on the World's Fair grounds on Saturday in honor of the formal celebration of the Queen's birthday. The same night the British commissioners, reinforced by a large number of Chicagoans of English birth, were tendered a special performance by the British soldiers at Tattersalls.

Fort Gibson, I. T., June 5.—Chief Harris and his colleagues, Treasurer D. W. Lipe and J. Cunningham, who were sent to New York two weeks ago by the Cherokee people to dispose of Cherokee Strip securities amounting to $6,500,000, are expected to arrive here next week. They will find their people very indignant and will be asked to explain why they were sent. There are many charges of fraud in connection with the attempted sale of securities. An official of the Cherokee government has received a letter from an ex-Wall street banker warning the Cherokees against a scheme which, he says, has been formed to dispose of the securities at prices far below par. The writer says that the Cherokees should keep an eye on their representatives. Nobody here seems to know what course to pursue, but it is a settled fact that the bonds will never be sold for less than par. If some arrangement is not made to float at the coming special of the Cherokee legislature, agents will be sent to England to dispose of them there.

New York, June 5.—The second annual open air horse show, under the auspices of the United States Horse and Cattle Show Society, opened to-day on Manhattan Field, at 155th street, and will continue for five days. Society has taken a great deal of interest in the event, and the prizes reach a total of $22,000.

Chicago, June 5.—Delegates to the international convention of vegetarians, which will open a few days hence, are beginning to arrive. England, France and Germany will be represented.

New York, June 5.—It is possible that the entire senate committee on immigration may take a transcontinental trip this summer. It includes, besides Senator Hill, Senators Faulkner, Voorhees, Squire, Lodge, Dubois and Proctor. Senator Squire has urged that an examination of the Chinese immigration question be made and that at least a sub-committee be sent to the coast to ascertain the condition of the Chinese in California, and possibly Oregon and Washington. So members of the committee are in favor of going in a body to San Francisco to find out by personal inspection what sort of citizens Chinese would make.

Charleston, Ills., June 5.—George Walters, a rich farmer, and his daughter Nellie, were run down on a trestle near here yesterday by a Clover Leaf train, on their way home. In their endeavor to save themselves they jumped into the creek below. In the fall the girl was killed and Walters badly injured.

Pittsburg, June 5.—The impression that the policy pressing of the cases against Henry Frick and other officials of the Carnegie Steel Company would carry with it the quashing of the charges against the strikers, is a mistake, according to the district attorney, who says each case will be disposed of regardless of any connection with the cases against the employees.

Clinton, Ala., June 5.—Wm. Upchurch, tax collector of Greene county, died last night from the effects of morphine. It is said the books and affairs of his office had become muddled and the worry unbalanced his mind. His father and brother committed suicide some years ago.

New York, June 5.—The delegation from the Good Templars of England, which will attend the World's Fair Temperance congress, and the supreme court of the order at Des Moines, Ia., arrived here to-day. It is headed by Grand Chief Templar Joseph Mallins, Past Grand Chaplain Charnley, and Juvenile Superintendent Stacey Watson.

New York, June 5.—J. W. Mackay, of San Francisco, the bonanza king, accompanied by his family, sailed for London to-day. He expects to return to spend the closing weeks of October at the World's Fair.

Kansas City, June 5.—The Kansas Grain Company, a great commission house, with branches all over Kansas, has failed.

San Francisco, June 5.—Orders are expected from the navy department, Washington, for the coast defense monitor Monterey to make a trip along the coast. A letter received by a naval officer in this city says that the authorities had intended, in the event of the Monterey proving a success, which she did on the trial trip, sending her to visit all the ports along the coast from San Diego to Puget Sound.

Mercedes, Cal., June 5.—Rev. A. R. Reams, pastor of the South M. E. church, has eloped with Miss Lucy Crucker, his organist, 17 years of age. Reams left town with the young lady yesterday afternoon, and the runaways are now supposed to be in Oakland, for which point it is known Reams bought tickets. There is talk of tar and feathers.

Chicago, June 5.—Meadowcroft Bros. & Co., private bankers, doing a commercial paper business similar to that of Hermann Schaffner & Co., the banking firm which made an assignment on Saturday, closed its doors this morning. The concern is one of the oldest in the city. The assets and liabilities are not stated.

Washington, D. C., June 5.—The President to-day appointed Charles W. Dayton of New York city postmaster of that city.

New York, June 5.—The Pennsylvania railroad train bearing Infanta Eulalie and party left Jersey City for Chicago at 12:15 p. m. The party crossed the river on the steamer Mohawk and the Spanish man-of-war Christiana, both of which vessels fired salutes as the royal party landed.

San Francisco, June 5.—G. L. Nagle, suspected to be a steamship officer, is lying on a cot in the city prison hospital in a comatose condition. He looks as if he had been drugged, but his right side is paralyzed, and there is suspicion that he was sandbagged early this morning. Two officers found him lying in the street. When they searched him they found $15 in his pockets and diamond rings and some other jewelry on him, but his watch was gone and watchchain broken.

The body of John Burke, marine engineer, was found in the bay this morning. Burke had been missing for three weeks. It was a plain case of suicide, as Burke had on his overcoat with stones in the pockets. He was a G.A.R. man, aged 45.

NO NEW CASES.

Diphtheria on the Decline—Painful Accident.

New Westminster, June 5.—Late Saturday night Capt. James Robinson, of the snagboat Samson, while going aboard missed his footing on the gang plank and fell to the deck below. He had six ribs broken and was badly shaken up. Four doctors are in attendance and at first it was feared he would not live. Yesterday he rallied and was removed to his home. To-day he is doing well and the doctors say he will recover.

There are no new cases of diphtheria in the city. Edward Julian, having one of his children down, sent the rest of the family to Blaine. The authorities there quarantined them a few days. Afterwards another child was discovered to have the disease.

For the seventh time in the last two years the Holbrook house was on fire this morning. The fire was in the roof. The flames were put out before much damage was done.

Repeated thefts of horses have taken place on the south side of the river within the past few weeks. In all 13 horses are missing. The thieves are thought to have come from the American side.

S. Manahan retired on Saturday night leaving a $300 gold watch and chain on the table near an open bedroom window. On Sunday morning both were gone.

The fishermen's meeting on Saturday night was well attended, the opera house being nearly full. Some excellent speeches were made, but all were in a moderate tone, although a determined feeling was displayed that the white fishermen will have their rights and the Japs and Chinese must go. One fisherman said if they had to starve for a year they would fight to lay their cause before the world to obtain redress. The 31 canneries each, on an average, employ 150 Chinamen in the cannery, besides the Japs fishing.

FLOREAT NANAIMO.

Bound to go Ahead—A Popular Officer—Champion Footballers.

Nanaimo, June 5.—The buildings in progress on Commercial street promise to give that part of the city considerable business importance. The Free Press has moved into its new home, a fine, large, three-story brick, the ground floor of which will be ample for all needs of the paper. The editorial room will be superior, when fitted up, to that of any other journal in the province. Close to the Free Press building will be an immense frame dwelling for A. R. Johnston & Co., and the same distance farther on will be another three-story brick for R. Gibson. Then there are two more buildings contemplated on the opposite side of the street.

The disagreement among the shareholders of the French syndicate at Northfield has been satisfactorily adjusted and the store was re-opened on Saturday.

The appointment of Dr. Praeger to the captaincy of the Nanaimo infantry corps, vice W. McGregor, resigned, has given universal satisfaction to members of the corps. The doctor has always shown a keen interest in the company, and a more zealous officer could not be found.

The funeral of the late J. Wilkes took place yesterday under the auspices of the Court Nanaimo Foresters.

On Saturday the four second teams of the Wellington, Northfield, Nanaimo Rangers and Y. M. C. A. football clubs met on the cricket ground to play for ex-Mayor Hilbert's cup. The weather was fine, the ground in splendid condition, and the place was thronged with spectators. At 3:30 the Rangers and Y. M. C. A. got to work, and the first half the Y. M. C. A. scored one, but in the second half they did not improve and the Rangers made two goals. When these two teams left the field the Wellington and Northfield kicked off, with the result that Wellington scored two to Northfield none. The final between the Rangers and Wellington was won by the Rangers by three to none. The Rangers now hold this cup and the B. C. Football Association cup, and they may be considered the champions of the province.

GENERAL DISPATCHES.

News in Brief From Various Parts of the World.

Paris, June 3.—A submarine vessel, the Gustave Zede, has been launched at Toulon. It was easily submerged when required. Naval experts declared it a complete success.

Vienna, June 3.—The Austrian Minister of Marine, in his annual report reviewing the Austrian and other navies, says petroleum is being abandoned as fuel for warships owing to risk of fire. Experiments of submarine boats have been discouraging. He notes the introduction of nickel in armor plates and declares the use of smokeless powder so successful that it will soon extend from smaller guns to artillery.

London, June 5.—Although the anniversary of the birth of Queen Victoria was regularly celebrated on the day of its occurrence, May 24th, a still more general celebration was held on Saturday in accordance with the time-honored custom. The school children availed themselves of the holiday to have festivities of their own, and many banquets were given in the different municipalities.

A Paris Centenarian.

That a Parisian born and bred in the centre of the city and never leaving it should attain the age of 100 years and be still hale and hearty is rather a problem for the municipality mortality statisticians. Madame Lafosse, now domiciled in the big Saipetriere hospital, near the Botanical gardens, has just completed a century of existence, and is, therefore, put forth in print as an aged phenomenon. She states that notwithstanding her years she is as solid as the Porte Saint-Martin, and that her appetite is excellent. She is carefully looked after by her daughter, who is sixty-five years old, and is also an inmate of the Saipetriere. Madame Lafosse was born in that antique part of Paris near Notre-Dame known as the Ile Saint-Louis, on February 26, 1793. She is the third centenarian on the books of the hospital within a period of fifty years; one of her predecessors, an ex-vivandiere, attaining the age of 105, while the other lived only two years after having reached the three figures. Madame Lafosse was a dressmaker in her time. Like Leopardi and the other pessimists, she does not think much of life, and is not disposed to cling to it, having seen, as she expresses it, too many sad things during her prolonged existence on our planet.—Paris correspondence of London Daily Telegraph.

A BIG CATCH.

The Carlotta G. Cox in Hakodate on Saturday With 1900 Seal Skins.

The schooner Carlotta G. Cox was in Hakodate, Japan, on Saturday with a catch of 1,900 seal skins. Such was the pleasing information contained in a cablegram received on Saturday afternoon by E. B. Marvin & Co., her owners, from Capt. Byers, master of the schooner. The Cox had to come into Hakodate for water and to receive instructions from her owners. It was planned to ship any skins which she had, but the cablegram stated that arrangements could not be made and the skins will be carried through the voyage, most likely, unless some means are found of shipping the skins on a vessel coming this way. The Cox is no doubt the high line boat, as late reports from Japan give the highest vessel as 1,200, while many were empty handed. The Carlotta G. Cox got 2,400 skins last year, and will most likely do as well this year at least, for the season is still young. She carries a fine crew and is fully equipped for her trip.

SEALS ARE PLENTIFUL.

They Are to be Seen in Great Herds Off the West Coast.

Capt. Searle, late of the schooner Deeahks of Neah Bay, arrived in the city on Saturday evening on the City of Kingston. Said he to a Times man this morning: "I left the Deeahks at Neah Bay last week after a very successful cruise off the mouth of the straits and the west coast of this island. Since May 14th we lowered five days and got 310 skins. The seals were very thick and are so now. There are six little schooners down there now working and all are doing well. They are nearly all cows and bulls, pups being very scarce. The cows are very heavy, and I got an idea that these seals do not all go to the Behring Sea rookeries. Many of them could not reach there in time to bear their young. I think that it will be found some time that they go to other islands."

Capt. Searle will probably secure another schooner here for a two months' cruise off the coast. Seals will be very plentiful there all this month and a schooner would do very well.

Cheques Ready.

City Treasurer Kent requests all parties who have accounts against the celebration committee to call a once and get their cheques, which are now ready.

Jumped Through the Window.

A horse hitched to an express wagon became restless on Yates street this morning and plunged through one of John Partridge's show windows. Several panes of glass and the window frames were broken.

To Give Their Views.

A deputation of medical men will wait on the mayor and aldermen this evening before the meeting to lay before them their veiws regarding the proposed isolation hospital. The object of the corporation is to secure a modern building.

Judge Not.

The court house, Bastion square, was without a judge to-day. The Chief Justice is holding court at New Westminster. Mr. Justice Crease is holding the assizes at Nanaimo. Mr. Justice Walkem is at Nelson on similar business and Mr. Justice Drake is ill.

Alaska Excursions.

The Alaska excursionists are beginning to go north. The steamer City of Topeka arived from the Sound last evening and left for the north at 4 this morning. She had a number of excursionists on board and others joined her here. The Queen will make her first trip on Wednesday, taking a lot of passengers.

New Sanitary Office.

Sanitary Inspector Chipchase has moved into his new office on Fisgard street, in the rear of the market. The office is large, comfortable and isolated. Connected with it are bath and fumigating rooms. The bath will be principally used by those who have been attending patients suffering from disease but who are not likely to become infected. Their clothes will be fumigated and they will be given a mercury bath.

The Philo Farewell Concert.

The following is the programme for the farewell concert to be given by the Philo family in Institute Hall on June 13th. The concert is for the benefit of Mr. Joseph Philo, who will soon depart for Paris to finish his musical studies:

Tours in Scotland.

Nearly all Canadians and Americans who make the trip across the Atlantic go with the intention of including Lonnie Scotland in their tour. Appreciating this fact the Caledonian Railway Company has issued, for special distribution in America during the World's Fair year, a handsome and useful guidebook, with the title "Tours in Scotland." The traveller who intends to visit the "land of brown heath and shaggy wood" will find in this little volume directions such as will enable him to make systematic use of his time and make his trip both comprehensive and comfortable. He will find, perhaps, more points of interest touched upon than he can include in one visit to the country, but with the aid of this guide he can contrive to make a wise selection. The book is embellished with handsome engravings of Scottish scenes. Any person desiring a copy of the "Tours" will be able to secure one by applying to Mr. Irvine Kempt, general superintendent of the Caledonian railway, Glasgow.

Council This Evening.

He is Not Raiding.

Collector of Customs Hatch, of Alaska, has been kind enough to issue an open letter denying that Capt. Hansen, the Flying Dutchman, is on a raiding cruise. He says he is out on the Emma from Junea with Capt. John Johnson, and the vessel will not raid the islands.

Transferred to the Champion.

Sub-Lieutenant D. G. Foord has been transferred to H. M. S. Champion from the Garnet. His brother officers of the Garnet manned the captain's galley and rowed him to the Champion. That is a compliment usually paid only to captains and is an example of the officer's popularity.

Smuggled Suits.

Thomas Nevins, engineer on the quarantine steamer Earle, was fined $50 and costs in the provincial police court this morning for smuggling clothing from the steamship Tacoma. Nevins wore two suits of clothes ashore each time. His numerous changes of clothing aroused suspicion. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Mount Baker Hotel Ball.

The ball at the Mount Baker Hotel on Wednesday evening promises to be a success. Arrangements for the affair have been completed. A special car service has been arranged for, and at 1:30 a sufficient number of cars to accommodate 250 persons will leave Oak Bay on the last trip.

Another Dock Needed.

The Romulus-Champion incident has produced the following paragraph in the Naval and Military Record: "The obvious moral to be drawn from this incident is that the admiralty should take steps to construct a naval dock at Esquimalt, as, indeed, in other parts of the world where the accommodation for ships of war is inadequate."

A Moonlight Excursion.

There will be an excursion to Esquimalt to-morrow evening under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. reception committee. The excursion boats will leave McIntosh's boat house at 7:30 in the evening, returning at 10:30. This is the first of a series of excursions to be given by the association, and as many members as possible are requested to attend.

Wedding Bells.

Mr. G. Calder and Miss Elsie L. Winsby were married on Saturday evening at 74 Cook street, by Rev. Dr. Campbell. Miss Margaret E. Sinclair was bridesmaid; W. T. Kennedy supported the groom. The bride wore cream silk serge, trimmed with cream silk, and the bridesmaid cream silk net, trimmed with cream ribbons. The couple will live in Victoria.

Goodwin as "A Gilded Fool."

In "A Gilded Fool," the new comedy written by Henry Guy Carleton for Nat C. Goodwin, that excellent comedian, has, without doubt, the best comedy of the many in which he has been seen. It has proved a great hit wherever produced, and in New York it ran at the new Fifth Avenue theatre, one of the largest in the city, to overflowing houses for eight weeks, being withdrawn finally, only because it was impossible to make arrangements for a further extension of time. It will be seen at the Victoria theatre to-morrow evening. Wednesday evening, "The Nominee."

Sons of St. George.

This evening quite a large and enthusiastic gathering is expected in Milton Lodge of the above order, to hear pro and con, in relation to the many questions to be submitted to the grand lodge, which convenes next month; it long being the desire of the order here to have matters so adjusted, so as to procure as speedily as possible a grand lodge for this province, as it will both materially improve and place this order on a far better working basis by co-operating with the then sister grand lodges, also having direct representation to the supreme lodge of the Eastern States. The D.D.G.P., Bro. Penketh, and many past presidents will be present. The advisability of having representation at the grand lodge next month will also be considered.

More Sewerage Legislation.

Ald. McKillican has the following notice on the City Hall bulletin board: "At the next meeting of the city council I shall introduce the following resolution: That the Hon. J. H. Turner's appointment as a sewerage commissioner be cancelled, and the municipal council of the corporation of the city of Victoria, acting upon the certificate of the engineer, Mr. Mohun, and the two commissioners, Mr. Teague and Mr. Earle, dated 16th of May, 1893, and the report to the municipal council from the above mentioned commissioners, dated 17th of May, 1893, hereby accepts the work done by Mr. McBean, and gives its consent and sanction, and authorizes the payment of the full amount of the balance which appears to be due to the contractor, Mr. Alexander McBean, at the expiration of the term of maintenance of the work, viz.: $19,202.37."

Gigantic Icebergs.

The mail from the Falkland Islands brings the intelligence that the Dundee whaler Polar Star arrived at Stanley Harbor from the Antarctic season February 17. The whaling in the Antarctic seas had up to that time proved a failure with all the ships that went out. There were plenty of whales of the finner and humpback kinds, but not the Greenland kind. There were too many grampuses for whales to be at all plentiful. Seals are very numerous, and there are also many sea lions to be got on the ice. Nothing unusual to Arctic navigators was seen except some icebergs of enormous size. One of them was fifty miles long and several others from fifteen to twenty miles long.

An Empress of Peace.

The German Empress is not a brilliant woman, nor does she care much for popular applause, writes Arthur Warren in a pleasant sketch under the title of "An Empress at Home," in the June Ladies' Home Journal. Germany, therefore, is fortunate. It is quite sufficient that Wilhelm II should be the most dashing, masterful, restless figure on the stage of European affairs. Augusta Victoria has no desire to "play up" to such a "lead." She does not aspire to captivate the general gaze, nor does she claim to be divinely inspired. She is not ambitious. No war will be precipitated by her caprice, no statesman made and unmade by her smiles and frowns; for policies of state she has as little inclination as her husband has for monastic seclusion.

Biggest Man on Earth.

Citizens of Frankfort, Ind., vicinity recently had an opportunity to behold the greatest living man in avoirdupois. John Hanson Craig, with his wife and three-year-old child, was visiting James Anderson and James McPherson, relatives. Craig's home is in Danville, Hendricks county, but he has been in the show business since his babyhood. In answer to questions he said:

"I now weigh 907 pounds, and am 37 years old. At birth I weighed 11 pounds; at 11 months old I weighed 77 pounds, at 2 years old 206 pounds. At that time I took the $1000 premium at Barnum's baby show at New York city, in the year 1858. At 5 years I weighed 302 pounds; at 13 years, 405 pounds; at 20 601 pounds; at 22, 725 pounds; at 27, 758 pounds; at 28, 774 pounds; at 29, 791 pounds; at 30, 806 pounds; at 31, 836; and my present weight is just 901 pounds. I am 6 feet 5 inches high, measure about 8 feet 4 inches around the hips, 18 inches around the ankle, 29 inches around the knee, 66 inches around the thigh next to the body. I require 41 yards for a suit of clothes and three pounds of yarn for stockings."

Mrs. Craig is a good-looking blonde, weighs 130 pounds, and formerly accompanied her husband in the role of snake-charmer as "Lolo Ayres." When asked how long they had been married, she laughingly remarked that they were first married in 1882, but that they were just now enjoying their second honeymoon, as they were divorced in January and remarried but a couple of weeks ago. Mr. Craig explained the trouble, stating that his wife had expressed a desire to learn fashionable dressmaking and that he objected. She applied for a divorce; it was granted, and she went to Terre Haute and learned her trade. She then returned home and they were remarried. Mr. Craig has been all over Europe and in every important city in the world. They went from here to Dayton, where Mrs. Craig was born and raised.—Indianapolis Journal.

Mr. Herbert Spencer's Health.

The public will read with regret the continued statements about the ill-health of Mr. Herbert Spencer. The latest of these rumors has been denied; but Mr. Spencer himself has so often stated in his magazine articles that he has been tempted to write them out of their natural order in the work on which he is engaged, lest his health should prevent him from ever writing them at all, that people read the contradictions with some misgivings. There is no literary man at present whose death or incapacity for work would be a greater loss to English thought than Mr. Spencer. He has revolutionized all our modes of viewing the world—in some respects permanently, in others at least for a time. It is not probable that he will ever be able to complete his exposition of the vast circle of knowledge which he has sketched out for himself, any more than Buckle was able to complete his "History of Civilization or "Macaulay his "History of England." Even those who dissent from his leading conclusions and from the general drift of his teaching must, nevertheless, desire that he should retain sufficient working power to complete one of the greatest systems of thought ever given to the world.

PRAISE FOR RUSSELL.

The British Counsel's Great Speech on the Behring Sea Question.

(Paris correspondence of London Truth.)

Sir Charles Russell, whom I had heard three times in London, and each time speaking in a different diapason, the audiences being on as many different planes of culture, is a greater speaker than I even thought. He seems to feel that he is dealing with a case in which he must not make a single slip, or commit a sin of omission. The gravity that underlies his pleadings is impressive, and yet he, to all appearance, deals in a light-handed way with every difficulty. His manner is ease itself. To judge from it, he is well alive to the duty of not boring any member of the tribunal. The form is perfect. When impressive Sir Charles speaks almost trippingly. Nobody could handle better than he does the weapon of irony. Those more competent than I am to speak on legal subjects say that he shows himself a great jurist, and that the case, as he conducts it, must redound as much to his honor from the printed reports merely as from the oral hearing. Perhaps so in the eyes of jurists. But mere readers can have no idea of what a great artiste de la parole the attorney-general is showing himself. He does not let go a single objection raised by the other side until he has so sifted it that little, if anything, remains. The manner of sifting is prettily courteous. Senator Morgan examines and cross-examines for the purpose of eliciting facts that it strikes one might serve the side of his friends across the Atlantic. This may not come within his province as an arbitral judge, but, as an auditor of the proceedings, I trust the senator may go on taking this course, it so stimulates Sir Charles, and keeps him doing, it appeared to me, his level best. Sir John Thompson, notwithstanding the great interests of Canada, of which he is prime minister, never says a word. Judge Harlan shows that he understands what is demanded of the judicial character and struggles to be impartial. Need I say that he succeeds? I greatly like his appearance. He is a judge of the tip-top tribunal of the world—the supreme court of the United States, which stands in the same relation to the senate and president there in which the Fates stood to Jupiter. Judge Harlan is the tallest, and, physically speaking, the finest-looking member of the tribunal, and although a water drinker is of a florid complexion. He often grew restless during the interminable speeches of his countrymen, Messrs. Phelps, Carter and Coudert, and walked up and down the platform behind the bench to let off his discomfort, drinking from time to time as he did so, copious draughts of ice water. Herr Gram, the Norwegian arbitral judge, hardly loses a word. He had to be pretty wide awake to follow the hair-splitting and —in law—learned disquisitions of counsel for the United States. Of course he knew little or nothing of English, and, consequently, of American law, but may, against he has got through his task, set himself up as an authority in it. It seems to me that the Americans do not take a wide-world view of a question international in all its bearings, and dwarf and narrow it while obscuring it. One of the consequences of the sittings of the arbitral tribunal will be to make us know more of seal life than we have previously had any idea of. On Sir George Dawson, the expert on this subject, the Canadians trust for their statement in answer to the American case. Nothing that he can say I believe tends to break down the American contention that the seal is the nearest being in creation to the human being. But I fancy that he can prove that American methods of killing it in Pribyloff islands slaughter yards are no more merciful, if at all so merciful, as those of seal hunters in the open sea. A naturalist who came with me to hear the pleadings before the arbitral court could not understand what particular consolation it could be for the seal to be killed for the benefit of the Alaska Seal Fur Company, which it appears is at the bottom of the affair, instead of for that of some Canadian or British one. He spoke of the seal as "the missing link," and much nearer to the human creature than any denizen of the African forests. It was ages ago all but human, and might have got on and up in the world as high as ourselves had it not found life so easy as a fishing animal that it took too completely to the sea not to become amphibious, and evolved an epidermis that swathes up its limbs and keeps its hands and feet from being of more service to it than fins. The male seal has become a polygamist through no fault of his—the Americans leave so few of his sex alive. He sometimes looks after as many as 20 wives and their young, which are called pups by the hunters, and are lovely, sagacious little things. They come to land for match-making and sociable purposes, and would have an enjoyable time there if left to themselves. But American hunters, often Indians, lie in wait for them and drive the males to slaughter yards miles from the places where the seals land. The females and a few veterans and the mere youngsters of the other sex are left, and get off as fast as they can into the sea. It seems to me that the best way to prevent disputes would be to let the seals land and then prevent them from going on fish-catching expeditions in the open sea, where every one must have a right to hunt them.

The Dreadful Hot Weather of Summer

Fatal to Babies!

The hot, sultry and oppressive days of summer are dreaded by all mothers who have weak, sickly and peevish infants. Hundreds of the tender flowers are cut down and pass away forever. To a large extent mothers are responsible for the safety of their children. The precious lives demand care, and the mother who allows her child to become frail and languishing, so that it is unable to pass through the trying hot weather with safety, does not know the first principles of how a child should be brought up.

The careful and loving mother will see that the baby's diet is right—that it is regularly fed with Lactated Food. This scientific food is a preventive of all summer complaints, and is at the same time a grand builder and nourisher. Babies who are fed on Lactated Food are continually bright, happy and contented; they sleep well, rest well, and wake well. Every mother in Canada should commence its use at once for the baby. The manufacturers wish all mothers to try it if they have not used it in the past. A full-sized can will be sent to any mother who sends her full address to Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal.

What is Being Done in the Great Mining Country.

CROPS MENACED BY AN INUNDATION

Freight Business on the Lakes Booming—The Okanagan River Easily Navigated—An American Mining Expert Astonished.

(Vernon News.)

Mr. Snodgrass' mill is about ready to start. A party of 13 have arrived from Washington to get out 1,500,000 feet of logs.

Quin Falkner has disposed of his interest in the Ram's Horn hotel to Mr. Louis Morand, who is now sole proprietor.

They built a dam to keep high water from spoiling the Guisachan crops. It has been washed away and it is covering part of the hop plantation.

The SS. Penticon has been run this spring to its fullest capacity, and a large volume of freight has been transported down the lake.

A new steamer of light draft has been ordered to replace the Miramichi. This it is claimed will make the through trip to Penticon every day if necessary.

W. Postill and W. Gardiner have purchased from J. D. McGregor & Co. the fine 4-year-old imported Yorkshire coach stallion Lord Wellington. This colt weighs 1,650 pounds and stands 17.2 1-2 hands high. He moves with great freedom and style and will prove a valuable sire for this district.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Presbyterian church on Monday evening last it was finally decided to purchase T. E. Crowell's house on Mara avenue for a manse. Rev. Mr. Langill goes off to the general assembly meeting on Monday next, and on his return will take up his residence in the manse.

Mr. Harding of Harding Bros. arrived at Okanagan Falls on the 17th inst., having fully examined the Okanagan river from its mouth to this point with a view to ascertaining the practicability of extending the run of light draft boats as far as Okanagan Falls, which his firm are putting on the Lower Okanagan. He says that he will be prepared to carry freight or passengers from Okanagan Falls to the Northern Pacific by July next without difficulty, as the Okanagan river presents fewer obstacles to navigation than others.

(Inland Sentinel.)

The river is still on the rise and bids fair to come up to the high water mark of previous years.

Trout fishing is the favorite pastime of our sports these days, and it is no uncommon sight to see them returning from a day's fishing with large strings of the speckled boys.

On May 26th at Ashcroft a public meeting was held to elect a board of overseers to carry into effect the act for the better protection of stock ranges passed in 1893, which is almost a copy of the act of 1879, and has for one of its principal object the exclusion of sheep from the cattle ranges.

One of the prettiest pieces of natural scenery it has been our pleasure to look upon for some time is the Bridal Veil falls, south of town. Now that the freshets are on a great volume of water forces its way with a mad rush over the precipice and bounds through verdure-clad dells towards the South Thompson.

(Kootenay Star.)

Revelstoke is now in receipt of a mail every day.

Great regret is expressed here at the removal of the dining car for the summer months on account of the change in the C. P. R. time table.

Lardeau townsite company will contribute $5,000 towards the construction of the wagon road to Trout Lake City, and it is expected that the Trout Lake people will also assist.

John Thompson has been appointed by the government as road surveyor for Revelstoke division. Mr. Thompson is a thoroughly competent man, and no doubt will give satisfaction both to the government and the people of the district.

A large ferry boat, 18 feet by 40 feet, is nearly ready for launching on Fish Creek. It will have strong railings and will carry from 25 to 30 horses and packs. About 500 feet of 7-8 inch cable is lying on the bank ready to be placed across the stream.

The Nakusp trail is in excellent condition, with the exception of two wet spots, which might be easily obviated by diverting the trail a few feet. Ten men are employed, and for seven miles it is ten feet wide and fit for vehicular traffic, the writer meeting a wagon on the road about that distance from Nakusp.

The ore vein on the Alpha mine, New Denver, has opened out to seven feet in width and almost entirely solid. The mine has greatly improved from the surface, and as the lower ground is reached the better it is found, which goes far to show that the Slocan mines are permanent.

E. G. Smithe of Coeur d'Alenes, a mining expert, and W. B. Pool visited the Pool group of mines last week and three of the claims were bonded for $70,000. Mr. Smithe says he expected to see a fair prospect, but was simply astonished at the mass of ore exposed to view. The size of the ledge far exceeded his expectations.

W. E. Losee and J. M. Douglas, both of Victoria, left here last Saturday with three pack horses well loaded for a prospecting trip to Big Bend. Bob Green acted as guide and returned with the horses on Wednesday. He left the men in camp at Carne's Creek. The object of the expedition is to locate some good timber and prospect for quartz and placer gold.

Tom Horne, discoverer of the great Horne ledge, returned from a visit to the mines this week. He says several claims near Trout lake are now clear of snow and the higher ranges will be accessible in about two weeks. A vast number of prospectors are gathering at Trout lake for the opening rush, the shores of the lake being dotted with white tents.

NOTES FROM NELSON.

President Van Horne's Visit—Railway Construction.

Nelson, June 1.—President W. C. Van Horne, of the C.P.R., and party, are now in the Kootenay country. They spent a day in Nelson and journeyed by special steamer to Kaslo. From there they go to Bonner's Ferry and take the steamer to Fort Steele, where the party will make a brief survey of the Crow's Nest Pass, through which it is proposed to build the short line into the Kootenay country and through to the coast. Should the president of this powerful corporation decide to build this line through it will give an impetus to the mining industries of the province, and there is no saying what immense changes it will make at other points besides Nelson. It is well-known that the Crow's Nest Pass was the first route selected for the Canadian Pacific Railway, and it was only abandoned when the federal government inserted a clause in the charter advising that the road be pushed through at not less than one hundred miles north of the international boundary.

The development and great prospects of the quartz mining in the Kootenay district, together with the large amount of capital invested here and only awaiting proper means of transportation for further development, have had the effect of bringing the C.P.R. party through, and a number of the party stated to your correspondent that the president was very confident, not to say enthusiastic, about the prospects here. Added to the reasons above given it is also known that the Canadian Pacific have received satisfactory assurances and guarantees of a large freight business from Spokane merchants should they make a direct connection with that growing city. It would shorten the route from Montreal to Victoria by 24 hours.

Seventy tons of sugar passed through on the C. and K. Navigation Company's steamer Columbian this week, and was shipped over the Spokane Falls and Northern Railway to Spokane. This was brought in from Honolulu by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, consigned to a Spokane dealer.

F. C. Innes, of Innes & Richards, Vancouver, owners of a valuable section of the Nelson townsite, is now in Nelson.

J. C. Drewey, of the Toronto Globe, has completed arrangements for giving the Kootenay districts several illustrated articles in that journal.

W. C. Drewry, P.L.S., will be in Nelson this week to commence work upon the photographic survey of the Kootenay district.

Premier Davie did not remain long in Nelson. He boarded the special steamer with the Van Horne party. After attending the assizes at Kaslo he will return to Nelson.

Kaslo has sent representatives to Nelson to try and effect a conciliation with the officers and members of the South Kootenay Board of Trade, whereby the members from that town may work in harmony with the board.

Work on the Nelson and Fort Sheppard Railway is becoming more systematic. The sub-contractors have had some difficulty in getting their supplies, owing to the washouts on the Spokane and Northern Railway. Several hundred more workmen are expected to arrive in Nelson this week. The town presents a very busy appearance now, and after a few pay days have come and gone there will be considerable money in circulation.

Reisterert & Co. are building a brewery in Nelson that will be capable of supplying the wants of the Kootenay district for a few summers. The work on the building is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

The building season has commenced here. Several new buildings are being erected and work will be commenced on the court house and hospital as soon as the tenders are awarded.

A young man from Victoria of the tenderfoot species gave his friends in Nelson much worry, trouble and amusement during the past month. His expectations of finding a liberal employer immediately upon his appearance in the country were not realized and a few hours after his arrival he was murmuring in naughty English at everything. Nelson was not to his liking and someone stole his perfume bottle while he was in Kaslo. Shoe blacking was expensive and the young man was soon "broke." He wanted to go home, but his friends in Victoria did not demonstrate any tangible desire to see him again. He finally secured enough money from a friend to go back and take his former situation at any price.

The Anglican church synod met at Quebec and passed resolutions endorsing the Winnipeg church consolidation scheme and empowering the bishops to appoint three clerical and three lay delegates to attend the coming conference on the subject to be held in Toronto in September.

Walter H. Smith, a well-known weather prognosticator of Montreal, says that the weather conditions favor the bounteous wheat harvest in the west and northwest, and he declares that the wheat harvest of 1893 over the great part of the northwest and west will be one of the best on record.

A few days ago a Montreal workingman bought a valise at an auction sale of Grand Trunk unclaimed goods and found in it certificates worth $107,000 worth of shares in the Western Gas Company of Chicago, made in favor of L. Helberstadt. The certificates are non-negotiable. It now turns out that Helberstadt died in Brockville in October, 1891, of alcoholism. A gold watch and a large sum of money he was known to have prior to his death were missing and an inquest was held. He had evidently been robbed.

The governor-general made at Ottawa the other day what he said would probably be his last public appearance in Canada. It was at the presentation of diplomas at the Lady Stanley institute for training nurses, and in his address he said: "We are leaving the Dominion with feelings of such regret that our wish would be that this was rather the commencement than the close of our term in Canada, but matters being as they are we are obliged to depart, and I assure you in all candor and sincerity that Lady Derby will look back upon her experience on this side of the Atlantic as the very happiest period of her life."

A Jacobite Toast.

What was the origin of the treasonable toast, "To the king—over the water," and how it was managed "under the rose"? At a recent meeting of the Society of Antiquaries Mr. John Robinson exhibited an old drinking glass, which he described as bearing on each side the engraved device of a white rose, and as having been used, in Jacobite times, for drinking treasonable toasts. Mr. Robinson said that Jacobite gentlemen, when attending dinner parties, stood up at table, in silence, and drank "To the king," but as their chairman or host pronounced the words each Jacobite present held his drinking glass over the finger bowl of water beside him. Thus the toast was "To the king—over the water." Each glass had engraved upon it the rose, which was a sign of secrecy as well as a badge of the Jacobites. The Hanoverian royalties put a stop to this, to some extent, by making it part of the court etiquette that whether hosts or guests they should only be supplied with finger bowls at table. Sir Gainsford Bruce, who was present when the glass was exhibited at the old castle, subsequently told Mr. Robinson that the same custom has been continued in the case of the present royal family, though the court officials who control the etiquette of the table when royalties are present do not seem to be aware of its origin.

Chicago, June 5.—Wage-workers by the tens of thousands took a rest on Saturday at Kuhn Park. It was the annual labor day picnic, which has been postponed from week to week in consequence of inclement weather. Between the sports arranged for the occasion a mass meeting was held, and addresses urging organization for the uplifting of the industrial classes were delivered by Robert Stemer, editor of the Arbeiter Zeitung, and Fred Deitius, of the Cigarmakers' Union.

Victoria Wins the Lacrosse Match From Vancouver on Saturday.

HARDEST MATCH PLAYED IN VICTORIA

Both Teams Played a Good Game — Great International Regatta—The James Bay Athletic Association Outdoor Meeting.

LACROSSE.

VICTORIA WINS AGAIN.

One of the hardest battles ever fought on a British Columbia lacrosse field took place on Saturday at the Caledonia grounds before several thousand spectators. The two teams—Victoria and Vancouver—were very evenly matched, although a couple of men in each team were not in good training. Victoria played a better team game than it has ever played before, and there were some very pretty passes. There was not a lazy man in the Victoria team. Ketchum played a splendid game, his activity and quick throwing relieving Victoria many times. He never let the ball remain in his stick too long. He no sooner got hold of it than it was on its way to the other end of the field. The trustworthy Beifry did not miss a chance to defend Victoria. He was always in his place and very seldom lost the ball when it came to him. Charlie Cullin, Morton and Tite made a good team for the defense field. They all played well and steadily and won fresh laurels for themselves. "Pete" Blight played an even stronger game than usual in centre. It was safe to bet that he would get the ball every time in the face off or a run. Frank Cullin surprised and pleased his most ardent admirers. He played a thoughtful game all through, and his neat way of picking up the ball brought forth applause from the grand stand. Dan Tudhope played three games, being laid off on account of a sprained shoulder. He played as strongly as usual while on the field. Considering the fact that he had very little practice, and was in poor condition, "Archie" Macnaughton played well. He was "winded" in the sixth game, but before time was called for the seventh was considerably refreshed, and won the game for Victoria.

Frost had Cheyne, the best player in the Vancouver team, as an opponent, and he matched him well. He is a good stick-handler, and made some pretty shots on goal, three of which were successful. Ross Eckardt, as inside home, mastered his check and the goal keeper, and kept the way well cleared for the home team's shots on goal. The cry at the first of the season was that Victoria had no goal keeper. That was a mistake. McLeod on Saturday proved that he is well able to look after Victoria's flags. He stopped several "hot shots," and did some good playing behind goal.

For Vancouver Cheyne played the best game, and Myers defended the flags well. Suckling paid very little attention to the ball, his main object seemingly being to discomfit his check. Spain, Quan and Morency played well in defense field. Ralph played very strongly, ably assisted in the home field by Campbell and McGregor. Quigley was not in good condition, but he played well, as did Smith. W. G. Mackenzie looked after the Victoria team on the field, and kept them close on the ball. J. A. Smith was Vancouver's field captain. J. C. Whyte of New Westminster acted as umpire and gave satisfaction.

In the first game the ball was carried from the face off to Vancouver's goal, but Cheyne relieved by a throw to centre. Charlie Cullin returned it to Frank Cullin, who tossed to Frost and the ball went through, Eckardt keeping the passage clear.

The second game was the longest of the day. Vancouver's defense was kept busy, several shots being made on their goal. Smith secured the ball after a face off and threw to Campbell, who scored.

The centres did most of the work during the third game, which was won by Quan for Vancouver ten minutes after the start.

Tudhope retired during the interval and Hawman went off to make the teams even. After some loose playing all around, Morton got the ball and tossed to Macnaughton, who passed to Eckardt. The latter passed to Frost, and in half a second Victoria had another game, making the score 2 to 2.

Excitement ran high, but the admirers of the blue and white were soon relieved, as a minute after the fifth game started the score was 3 to 2 in favor of Victoria, Blight having passed the ball from centre to Frost, who scored.

Vancouver won the sixth game in ten and a half minutes, leaving thirteen minutes to play. Neither team scored in that time, and it was agreed to play 30 minutes. Two minutes after the start Macnaughton scored for Victoria, the match was won and the spectators in the grand stand went wild.

THE OAR.

INTERNATIONAL REGATTA.

Austin, Tex., June 5.—The great international regatta, for which preparations have been in progress for several months, opened this afternoon, and will continue until Saturday. The various events have attracted to the city many thousands of people interested in aquatic sports. Among the noted oarsmen who will participate in the various events are—James Stansbury, of Hanksburg, Australia; Edward Hanlan, Toronto; Henry Peterson, San Francisco; George Hosmer, Boston; George Lee, New York; Alexander McLean, Australia; John Teemer, McKeesport, Ind.; Jacob J. Gaudaur, Ontario; Mike Nolo, Cincinnati; Erastus T. Rogers, Schuyler, N.Y.; James J. Ten Eyck, Worcester, Mass.; Charles Stephenson, Auckland, New Zealand; Fred Plaisted, Missouri; John McKey, Halifax; Lambert and Young, Australia; J. M. Corbett, and Henry Clegg of Virginia.

ATHLETIC.

INTER-COLLEGIATE MEETING.

Chicago, June 5.—Picked collegians from the state universities of Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Northwestern University are demonstrating to-day what western college speed, skill and muscle can do on the cinder track and in the lawn tennis court. It is the annual field day of the Intercollegiate Association of the Northwest, and students from all these universities are here in large numbers to witness the exhibitions of running, jumping, bicycling, vaulting, hurdling and putting the shot and hammer. There is considerable rivalry between the different colleges, and the contests will be for "blood" in every case.

PLAYING ELSEWHERE.

W. E. Ditchburn, who played with Victoria last season, is at present playing with an Omaha team. Fred Grant is at Denver.

EVERYTHING LOOKS PROMISING.

E. E. Billinghurst, secretary of the J.B.A.A. sports committee, is receiving daily most encouraging replies to his invitations to neighboring amateur athletes to participate in the first great annual out-door meeting at the Driving Park on June 24th. A Seattle gentleman, in a communication to Mr. Billinghurst, says that a large number of the cleverest amateur athletes in Seattle are training hard for the sports at Portland on the 17th inst., and that the whole crowd will undoubtedly come over here on the 24th and try their best to capture a large share of the spoils. The secretaries of the various Y.M.C.A.'s on the Sound will do their best, and each will send representative men. It is understood that the tramway company have promised to give every facility on the afternoon of the 24th for the transportation of spectators to the grounds. There will be no lack of cars, and they will be kept moving at a lively rate. Most of the amateur athletes in the city are at present training hard for the meeting, and it is expected that some excellent times and distances will be made.

WASHINGTON TEAMS.

There are prospects of several teams being organized in the Washington cities. Tacoma has already a team and one is being organized at Spokane.

THE TURF.

BIENNIAL TROTTING CONGRESS.

New York, June 5.—A special meeting of the biennial congress of the National Trotting Association opened here to-day for the purpose of acting on changes in the rules recommended by the joint committee of the National and American associations and the American Trotting Register Association. The meeting is necessary because only a congress has the power to make such changes as those contemplated.

THE RING.

TWO FEATHERWEIGHTS TO SPAR.

There will be a very interesting exhibition of boxing at the American Hotel to-morrow night, when Tyrrell and Coulstock, two featherweights from H.M.S. Champion, will spar for supremacy. A gold watch has been offered as a prize. There will be other sparring bouts and some music by the sailors.

THE GUN.

LIVE PIGEON MATCH.

A number of members of the local gun clubs have been practicing with live pigeons. It is understood that one party killed 40 out of fifty birds. This is a very good record, if none of the birds were shot after lighting in the trees. The largest number of birds were brought home by the members of the party who were stationed in the brush to prevent them from escaping when missed by the men behind the traps.

Monarch of the Ocean.

When will the speed of the "ocean greyhound" reach its limit? is the question often asked in this age of Atlantic flyers. No sooner has one leviathan steamship been launched than there is talk of another being built to outdo her. The Cunard Steamship Company in its new vessel, the Campania, which arrived here a few days ago, has outstripped all its rivals.

The dimensions of the Campania are enormous. Her length over all is 620 feet, her breadth 65 feet, and her estimated horse-power is, 30,000. She made over twenty-three knots an hour on her trial trip, which is equivalent to more than twenty-seven English miles. Shipping men looked on in wonder when this leviathan of the deep was successfully launched, and thought that shipbuilding had reached the acme of perfection.

During the past week, however, rumors have been spreading abroad that the White Star Company has in contemplation a new vessel which will cast into the shade the rival Campania, and even make the Great Eastern look small in comparison. The name of the new vessel will be the Gigantic, and she will not belie her name. The White Star Company is keeping the matter very quiet, and refuses to give definite particulars about its new vessel.

It has leaked out that the Gigantic is intended to be the swiftest and largest steamship afloat. Her length will be 700 feet, her beam 68 feet and her engines will develop 45,000 horse-power. The new vessel will thus be longer than the Great Eastern, but her beam will be fourteen feet less.

The horse-power of the Great Eastern was only 7650, while that of the Gigantic will be 45,000. This is an enormous difference, and is an example of the vast strides that have been made of late years in mechanical engineering.

The Gigantic will, it is expected, make twenty-seven knots an hour, and will be able to make the run from Queenstown to New York in a little over four days, so that best her owners hope the Campania to do is to cross the Atlantic in five days, so that if the Gigantic can do it in four days there will be a complete revolution in shipbuilding.—New York Journal.

NAKUSP

SLOCAN MINES

The Eldorado of British Columbia

All the ore output now assured to Nakusp by the immediate construction of the NAKUSP & SLOCAN RAILWAY, which will start at Nakusp and end at the Forks of Carpenter Creek, directly in the centre of the Slocan Mines.

No Other Route can Possibly Compete

Thirty-five miles of Railway from Nakusp will tap the whole of the Mines of the Slocan District, and the ores are bound to come out BY THE NATURAL GATEWAY, VIA NAKUSP, to the general welfare and prosperity of the Province.

Look at the Map.

A Provincial Railway Charter and subsidy and a Dominion Railway Charter have been obtained for the Nakusp & Slocan Railway, and the Canadian Pacific Co. have entered into an agreement to lease and operate the Railway for 25 years. There can be no doubt as to the importance of NAKUSP, the Gateway of the Slocan Country, either from the North or South, and the principal shipping and distributing point for all the district tributary to Slocan Lake.

Concentrators and Samplers

Now in contemplation, consequent on the definite settlement of the Railway question. The Nakusp & Slocan Railway will be built with a rush right into the heart of the Mines. See Wardner's and other experts' estimates of the production of Slocan Mines in the press. All this now assured is directly tributary to the Nakusp & Slocan Railway.
